Washington County Receives Award of Excellence

Washington, PA – DAC Bond recently honored Washington County who has shown continuous commitment to continuing disclosure reporting by presenting an Award of Excellence recognizing 10 years of dedication to compliance with United States Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) Rule 15(c)2-12. DAC stated, “In recognition of ten years of outstanding commitment to continuing disclosure reporting for municipal bonds. With a dedication to transparency and accountability, your commitment over the past ten years has set a standard of excellence in continuing disclosure reporting and positively impacted your organization and the broader municipal market.”

“Our county is committed to maintaining transparency and accountability in all financial matters, including municipal bonds. We understand the importance of ongoing disclosure reporting the public, and we will continue to provide timely, accurate information to ensure confidence in our fiscal stewardship and financial integrity,” said County Commissioner Chair Nick Sherman.

Vice Chairman Electra Janis stated, “For the past decade, we have remained steadfast in our commitment to compliance with SEC Rules. We remain dedicated to maintaining these high standards for years to come.”

“I’m always pleased when our employees, past and present, are commended for doing a good job,” Commissioner Larry Maggi said. “Their dedication and hard work over the past ten years is a true testament to their diligence and dedication to serving the public.”

Being a DAC Bond signals to the market that you are dedicated to meeting your contractual obligations, in all material respects, and have engaged DAC to assist you with ongoing regulatory compliance, she added.

“I would like to thank our commissioners and predecessors for laying the groundwork for this standard of excellence that we strive to maintain. We have been and will continue to be committed to every aspect that played a part in Washington County receiving this certificate, not only for our municipal bonds but also for all other financial matters, Adam. Petris, County Finance Director stated.”
